Court of Protection: Property & Affairs

Francesca is a specialist in all areas of Court Protection work. Francesca's practice is unique as she specialises in Property & Affairs work and Health and Welfare. Francesca routinely advises on complex financial cases, including cases flowing from or overlapping with personal injury or clinical negligence claims.

Francesca regularly receives instructions from a broad range of clients in property and affairs work including: the Official Solicitor; professional and lay deputies; family members and public bodies.

Francesca has particular interest and expertise in cases involving the following: statutory wills; the appointment of deputies; the scope of the authority of a deputy; financial abuse; lasting powers of attorney and gifts. Below are some examples of cases Francesca has been instructed in:

- In SAD & Anor v SED [2016] EWCOP 3: Francesca represented the daughters of P in the first post MCA case to consider the issue of capacity to revoke a lasting power of attorney ("LPA"). P decided with capacity to appoint her daughters under a LPA. The evidence before the court indicated that the LPA was executed to guard against the financial consequences of hypomania resulting from her bipolar disorder. P revoked the LPA and this was challenged by the daughters. The court gave helpful guidance as to the information relevant to the decision to revoke a LPA.
- Francesca routinely advises in proceedings flowing from or related to personal injury proceedings. Francesca has recently advised on the management of a damages award for a prisoner that lacks capacity to manage the award and the management of a damages award for a young man seriously injured in a road traffic accident. Francesca has extensive experience of advising in relation to personal injury and clinical negligence claims that require consideration of applications that are to be made in the Court of Protection in circumstances where the protected party lacks capacity, including applications to authorise any deprivation of liberty arising from the care package.
- Francesca advised and represented a professional deputy in relation to an application for authority to execute a statutory will in complex circumstances which included: suspected financial abuse; service outside of the jurisdiction; suspected fraudulent activities of a charity and an application to dispense with service.
- Francesca advised the lay deputy on a complex matter involving significant historical gifts made from P's estate. The case involved the Office of Public Guardian and the appointment of a professional deputy.
- Francesca advised and represented the professional deputy in complex proceedings before the Court of Protection which involved issues of serious financial abuse; suspected abduction of P and complex issues of disclosure.

Francesca provides regular training in this area and has experience of providing training events and seminars to practitioners, including public bodies and professional deputies.

Profile

Francesca is a specialist in all areas of mental capacity and mental health law. Francesca's practice encompasses all areas of Court or Protection work, including welfare disputes, serious medical treatment and property and affairs matters. Francesca receives regular instructions from individuals, the Official Solicitor, local authorities, NHS bodies and care homes. Francesca regularly acts in complex welfare proceedings and has a particular interest and experience in cases involving: cross border placements and disputes (with particular interest in cross border placements from Scotland); children and deprivation of liberty; the international protection of adults (for example, Francesca has recently been instructed to advise on cases involving Japan, Kenya and the United States of America); cases involving both welfare and financial disputes; and safeguarding vulnerable adults within the Inherent Jurisdiction of the High Court.

Francesca's practice is unique in that Francesca specialises in Health & Welfare and Property & Affairs within the Court of Protection. Francesca's property and affairs practice regularly involves advising on issues relating to: the scope of the role of a financial deputy, lasting powers of attorney; statutory wills and financial abuse.

Francesca also has extensive experience in Mental Health Law, including representing patients before the First- Tier Tribunal and Nearest Relative Displacement Proceedings. Francesca has extensive experience in cases concerning the interface between the Mental Health Act 1983 and the Mental Capacity Act 2005.

Francesca also has a particular interest in and regularly advises on matters of social care charging, with a particular focus on debt recovery.
