Brian Denney

Brian is a Chartered Landscape Architect and Chartered Environmentalist with over 30 years of experience in design and development. He is also registered with the Institute of Environmental Management and Assessment as a Principal EIA practitioner and acts as an admissions examiner for the institute.

Brian started his career in the development industry before qualifying as a landscape architect in 1987 and has gained considerable experience in a wide range of development and environmental projects throughout the United Kingdom. He is experienced in both landscape design and contract management and also the horticultural and arboricultural aspects of landscape architecture. He is an experienced project manager and project director and used to managing and co-ordinating multi-disciplinary professional teams.

Prior to joining Pegasus in 2007, he managed an office of 50 multi-disciplinary environmental consultants as the Operational Director and has been the Director responsible for the financial and administrative management of major projects, including technical review and quality control.
