Dr Christopher Jenner

As a leading Consultant in Pain Medicine Dr Christopher Jenner MB BS, FRCA FFPMRCA has expertise in treating more than 90 different pain conditions. With extensive training in Pain Medicine and Anaesthesia for a host of chronic and acute pain disorders, particularly musculoskeletal and neuropathic pain, he is well renowned as the 'go-to doctor' when pain is the barrier to rehabilitation.

Dr Jenner's reputation as a Pain clinician and the outstanding results he achieves in the management of chronic pain, CRPS and fibromyalgia sees patients fly to London from around the World to be treated by him. He runs a NHS clinic in a leading London hospital and is an honorary lecturer for Imperial Healthcare Trust. He has a private clinic in Harley Street and the Weymouth Street Hospital in central London.

As a leader in his field, Dr Jenner is regularly called upon to appear as an Expert witness in complex medicolegal cases. A dedicated and compassionate Consultant, Dr Jenner has the knowledge, experience and expertise to provide expert opinion to the legal profession including giving evidence to the court on even the most obscure of pain conditions.

He has presented numerous lectures on the various challenges medicolegal cases can present to both the claimant and defendant whether personal injury or clinical negligence and has extensive experience and training in this field. He is a published author and committed to continuing professional excellence. He regularly attends lectures and maintains active membership of the Expert Witness Institute and AvMA.

He enjoys cycling in his spare time with his two teenage sons.
